The Sanitary Comr (Mr W. The main building was constructed by Govt at a cost of Rs 8400 in 1890, subsequent additions were made at a cost of Rs 2483/- one-third of which was paid from Municipal funds & the remaining ⅔ from the Local Funds.

The new buildings for the Epidemic Diseases Hospital Depot Sylam have not yet been commenced, & till at least a portion of the new buildings is built, the present Hospital cannot be shifted, and the question of the disposal of the site & buildings does not arise till then. It seems too premature to consider the question now. If approved, this will be filed

Sir,

I have the honor to state that so far back as April 1915 the question of locating an industrial suburb to the west of Magadi Road was referred to me by the City Municipal Council for opinion. In reply I wrote & informed the Council that the proposed site was open to no objection on sanitary grounds, but only it would be necessary to shift elsewhere the Epidemic Diseases Hospital and the Leper Asylum which are in too close a proximity to the site.

2. As the question of constructing an Epidemic Diseases Hospital on up-to-date lines is pending orders of Government, and as, so far as I know, it is likely that the site for the industrial suburb is definitely & finally settled, I beg to propose that the area on which the Epidemic Diseases Hospital now stands be made up into sites of convenient size and sold by public auction for purposes of buildings that will spring up as a result of the formation of the suburb. The area is about 100 acres in extent- a vast stretch of land that, if apportioned into sites and sold in the manner suggested, may be reasonably expected to bring in an amount large enough to cover the entire cost of new substantial buildings elsewhere for the Epidemic Diseases Hospital and the Leper Asylum. The Municipal Council recognize the utter inadequacy and the unsuitability of existing arrangements for the treatment of epidemic diseases and have unanimously voted a contribution of Rs. 25,000/- out of Municipal funds towards the cost of constructing a pukka building and equipping it in an efficient manner. With this sum, the work of construction may be started, either on the site adjoining "Mount Joy", as originally proposed by me, or on as good a site - available to the east of the Kankanhalli Road about half a mile distant ~~from~~ the site chosen for the new Health Camp. The work must, of course, be carried out piecemeal so that the first few wards may immediately be made available for patients in order that the premises and buildings on the Magadi Road may be vacated with as little delay as possible and made over to be auctioned. The old buildings on the Magadi Road need not be knocked down however but may be auctioned along with the sites on which they stand.

Recommending that the block of ground on which the E. D. Hospital and the Leper Asylum now stand may be auctioned in connection with the proposed land-link Railway and the sale proceeds utilized for putting up roads buildings for the E. D. Hospital.

3. The utilisation of the area for the industrial suburb seems to me to be particularly appropriate, in view of the fact that the suburb would then be contiguous with one of the largest existing industrial concerns in the City - the factories belonging to Messrs. Binny and Co.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

Sanitary Commissioner.

SIR,

In reply to your letter No. G.1879/Med. 126-15-9 dated the 24th July 1918 and reminder thereto requesting to state when and from what funds the Epidemic Diseases Hospital in Bangalore was built, I have the honor to state as follows:

2. The building was formerly known as Tirupathi Pilgrims Chatram or quarantine camp and the main portion of it was built in the year 1890 at the suggestion of the Senior Surgeon for the purpose of accommodating and keeping under observation the pilgrims from Tirupathi and such other places where infectious diseases always prevailed and also for the inclusion therein of the Cholera camp which was beyond the Fort. The cost of the main building which was first erected was Rs. 8,408/- and it was met from Government Funds. Some additional buildings attached to the Hospital were built in the year 1897 at a cost of Rs. 2,483/- and one third of this amount was paid from the funds of this Municipality and the remaining two thirds from Local Funds.
